Software Development for Cash Logistics

Recycling Cash Office launched in Ireland

Date: June 2008

7 Layer Solutions have successfully introduced a new and innovative software product for retail cash processing: the Recycling Cash Office or RCO.

It is aimed at improving the productivity and security of cash handling in the retail back-office. It works in conjunction with a touch-screen PC and a currency recycler. The system has been termed an "automated safe" for retailers.

Recycling Cash Office launched in Ireland

7 Layer Solutions have utilised their business expertise in cash processing to apply a currency recycler to the back-office operations of retailers.

Currency recyclers automate the counting of banknote deposits, withdrawals and change transactions while simultaneously providing effective counterfeit detection and secure holding storage for the money. They are controlled via a PC and an associated software application. The software integrates the use of the machine within a business process.

Whilst every shopper is familiar with the supermarket check-out and has seen the ever increasing use of technology to improve payment operations, few are familiar with what happens to the cash received by the cashier; what goes on behind the scenes. The back-office is where all the physical cash, cheques, vouchers and other payment media have to be reconciled with the values recorded into the Point-of-Sale system; where bank lodgements are prepared; and where till floats are made ready for cashiers to use for change purposes.

The Recycling Cash Office, produced by 7 Layer, brings a new level of cash automation to retailing. It simplifies cash reconciliation whilst speeding up counting and cash dispensing operations.

7 Layer have worked in partnership with one of world's leading manufacturers of cash processing machines, to integrate a currency recycler with RCO. Modern recyclers are very compact and are easily installed in any environment. They have high security options such as strongbox, vibration detection sensor, delay timer security, personal password locking and an alarm centre connection system.

By ensuring the accuracy of cash counting and dispensing, and by providing a secure holding unit, in fact by being an "automated safe" they improve the level of security within the cash office and reduce the associated risks for staff involved in cash handling.

7 Layer have developed RCO with the aim of marketing it throughout the Eurozone, and initially launched RCO in the Republic of Ireland in order to gauge market demand and user acceptability of the product.

Says, Tracy Kennish, Marketing Manager at 7 Layer, "We are delighted with the results we're getting in Ireland. We've clearly identified a major business opportunity because we've got great interest from retailers such as franchisees of the Supervalu supermarket chain, one of the major retail brands in Ireland. Our distributor, Cash Handling Systems, has quickly turned trials of the system into firm orders in County Cork, and is now planning a national promotion."
